

Five locations. Five systems. One number nobody trusts.

Softype turns disconnected hotel, restaurant, and commissary systems into one trusted view of your hospitality operation, so you can see which locations are profitable, control food cost, and scale without multiplying complexity.

We don't sell software. We sell the end of the anxiety of not knowing.

Each location runs its own POS. Finance consolidates in Excel. Food cost is a spreadsheet exercise that runs weeks behind reality. Commissary production, inter-outlet billing, and inventory transfers happen outside the system. When leadership asks "which locations are profitable?" the answer takes days, and nobody fully trusts it.

Your venues are strong. Your teams deliver. But your systems weren't built to run a multi-location hospitality operation.

WHAT CHANGES WHEN YOU WORK WITH US

One view across all locations

Revenue, costs, and profitability by outlet, in real time, not at month-end. Hotels, restaurants, catering, and commissary on one platform.

POS flows into finance automatically

POS data syncs to your accounting system without manual re-entry. End-of-day reconciliation becomes a verification step, not a data assembly project.

Food cost tracked by outlet and recipe

Recipe management, yield tracking, and ingredient costing, connected to purchasing and inventory. Margin erosion visible before it compounds.

New locations onboard in days

One platform. Same configuration. Every new outlet reports inside the system from day one, no separate setup, no parallel processes.
